Nepal's glory at China

In the recent Dashain, I had got a chance to visit china for a special event i.e " The international youth peace and cultural festival " organized by UNESCO. It was held at Chaengdu. It was a youth conference of how to protect our heritages. So, a group of 15 students, selected from different schools like Kanya , V.S Niketan , D.A.V etc had gone there to represent Nepal. All the arrangements had been done by the government of china so the programme went smoothly. There were many countries such as U.K, U.S.A, Mongolia, Thailand, India, Kazhakistan, South Korea etc. Even in this short program, Nepal had swept away many awards / titles and held its name on the top. The winners of different categories are:-

Winners	Title
Prakriti Bhattarai ( V.S. Niketan)	Girl of the festival
Astha Shrestha ( D.A.V )	Miss under 10
Swarnim Rimal ( V.S. Niketan)	Miss under 15
Dipankar Bhatta Chettri ( KUHS )	Mr Under 15
Tabeen Raj Baskota ( Kanya )	Mr.Brains
Mrs. Dipika Bhatta ( Dance Teacher)	The most activate teacher of the festival
Nepal group	Most enjoyable group and most awarded group

Even in this short period we are attached to china, after the end of the program tears rolled down our eyes as we had to leave China. It was a great program and I'll never forget the time I spent there.

To the Peak of Shivapuri

The wait was finally over, when we reached our respective bus stop to go to Shivapuri Nagarjun National Park, excitement pinnacle in our veins to reach to the peak, our destination. The uphill walk was inflicting, but our companies made it lots easier. Teachers who accompanied us were Puspa Paudel, Narad Rijal, Jayram Sapkota, Ganga Luitel, Prafulla Kafle and Zhang Haixia. The uphill walk was mesmerizing it was awe, after three hours from National Park Office, we had our lunch. Then we started walking to the uphill. We also saw Bagdwar, the origin of river Bagmati. Then we reached the Shivapuri Peak which is 2732m above the sea level. The view from there was very astonishing. Then, we went back to the office through Nagi Gumba. The beauty of Gumba stunned us. Finally when it was dark we saw the glowing Kathmandu valley which was tremendous. At last our journey ended at 7.00 pm. We were tired and most of us were in ailing health condition due to the long journey. Nevertheless, we enjoyed our life.

A memento of excitement

To face difficulty with zeal was what we learned when we went for a hiking with my classmates along with five teachers guiding us. We (students of class ten) started the hiking from around 8.30am on a humid and chilly Sunday morning, the day was 25th of November and as we went further everybody started to pack the loads of clothes they had put on. The journey was of 20kms. The scenery was quite enticing. It was like being in a separate paradise. In our eyes we could see the valley disappearing and every hills there were below us. Leaves were covered with frost.

Our leg muscles view painning and we could feel our nose and ear shutting as we picked up altitude. We finally reached the top and it was completely different from what we had expected. There was a army barrack guarding the place. At first we thought that we were not allowed to join but the two sentries asked us if we were students and let us in. there was a gigantic tower and a temple. We worshipped Goddess Phulchwoke Mai and captured some photographs. We finished our snacks and returned the same way downhill. It was not as hard as climbing but our painning legs made the journey longer. It was a 11 hour journey altogether and we reached the bus at 6.30pm. The bus started and headed off back to the destination. It was a memorable adventure.

Second Ace Inter School Convention

On the 29th of November Ace institute of management had organized its 2nd inter school convention in which 16 students from our school participated in different competitions like essay writing, extempore speech, debate, newspaper making, dumb charade, spin a yarn and 3 on 3 basketball. 12 schools had participated in the convention. We were accompanied by our teacher Prafulla Kafle in the convention. The main objective of the convention was to boost the students towards literary and extra-curricular activities. Our school managed to get second position in debate competition. Competitions like dumb charade and spin a yarn were really enjoyable and hilarious. The program started at 8:30 am and ended at 4:00pm. The students gave their best but were unable to secure any position in any other competition as it was really tough. At least I would like to thank our school for giving us the opportunity to participate in this program as it has motivated us to participate in competitions like this and do better in the days to come.
